Course description:

This seminar prepares students for their final exam. They will be given the opportunity to revise their knowledge about British literature and culture and to find topics for their oral exam. They will also be introduced to the structure of an oral exam and some of the general requirements. They will be given suggestions about how best to organize and prepare for the exam. Finally, the Kolloquium will grant them the chance to practically test their knowledge (mock exam), present their work and exchange ideas with their peers.
