Course description

The Way of St. James (Jakobsweg) – a journey through language and landscape

This course will explore the history, folklore, and contemporary tales of a medieval path. Pilgrims as diverse as Hape Kerkeling, Paulo Coelho, Shirley Maclaine and Martin Sheen have all documented their gruelling and, at times, ‘spiritually awakening’ adventures. Through the use of literature, interviews, and film, students will be encouraged to consider the relevance and interpretation of such a journey. This will form the basis for English language practice at the academic level.

Assessment will be based on one group project, one oral presentation, two essays and shorter assignments. Participation and attendance is required.
