Kursbeschreibung:

A Bird Eye's View of English Literature

This lecture offers a first dive into the history of English literature. Introducing texts, authors, and historical contexts from the premodern to the postmodern period, it is designed as a broad overview that presents students with an initial orientation of the relevant literary currents and landmark works. In particular, it will focus on the interrelation of historical, cultural, and literary developments.

Extracts of the texts discussed will be made available either online or through a seminar file.
